Senior-focused primary care

Partners in Primary Care.

Imagine a doctor's office that focuses on the issues that matter most to seniors

At Partners in Primary Care, we know that seniors have specific challenges and their needs become more unique as they age. So we created a new approach. It's what we call senior-focused primary care—helping keep our patients healthy and setting them up for everything life may hold.

Senior-focused primary care means:

- Taking the time to listen to your questions and concerns
- Explaining your care and treatment so that you understand
- Working with your specialists for your overall care
- Reminding you of preventive screenings and tests
- Specializing in Medicare Advantage

Not all services are covered under all health plans, and patients are responsible for checking their health plan documents for coverage. Partners in Primary Care does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, disability or sex.

The importance of the primary care physician

Primary care physicians, or PCPs, are a key part of the healthcare system focusing on the long-term health and wellness of their patients.

Primary care physicians look at the big picture, noticing patterns, connecting the dots and coordinating the moving parts of the healthcare system for the benefit of their patients.

They are a true partner in health, playing a vital role in managing chronic and acute illnesses, lifestyle recommendations and education.

Your primary care physician leads a team of providers that may include nurse practitioners and physician assistants.
